THE PEOPLE DO.—The people are giving their minds to the questions, "Are hard times inevitable?" How did they come about, and how can prosperity be restored? They look at the facts and figures, and find the source of trouble in Republican profligacy and extravagance. They see in $80,000,000 saved by the Democratic House, and by the reduction in one year by nearly one-half in the taxes of the State of New York, and grasping in their hands these facts, they will elect for Tilden and Hendricks, and the other nominees of the party of retraction, Retrenchment and reform.

THE "HERALD'S" POLITICS.—The New York Herald articles of late date, warning the Republicans of the utter and ignominious failure of the bloody shirt campaign, and predicting general Democratic success, have made a sensation among politicians equal to that caused by the "Time" belt against assessments. All sorts of plans are being laid to make the paper change its course, and social instances are being brought to bear on Mr. Bennett, to induce him to let his editors, Young and Convery, take the other track.

Our Washington Letter.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15, 1876.
A SOLID SOUTH.
A few months ago it was conceded by the Democrats that Hayes would carry South Carolina and Florida. Lately, however, letters have been received here from several intelligent and trustworthy gentlemen in those States, stating that Tilden's popularity is increasing every day, as well among the negroes as the whites, that the Republican funds have become bitter and irreconcilable, and that there is no doubt of both States going Democratic by large majorities. The nomination in South Carolina of Wade Hampton for Governor is thought in Washington to be a good one, as is also that of Mr. Drew for the same office in Florida. The Republicans already acknowledge that they can not reasonably hope to carry a single Southern State. A gentleman who has just returned from a prolonged tour through the two States just named states that the white people there are united as never before, and that "white Republicans" who are not office-holders are as scarce as whales in the Ohio river. He says that the whites are the best and most intelligent men of color are determined to carry the election against the ignorant, turbulent negroes, the carpet-baggers and the scalawags. The white voters are determined, but peaceably disposed; and nine-tenths of the intelligent men of color will vote the Democratic ticket if they are not intimidated by the lower classes of their own race and the U. S. troops.

PROBABLE RAID ON THE SOUTH.
There is reason to believe that the view of Mr. Tilden's growing popularity in South Carolina and Florida, Gen. Terry was ordered by the Secretary of War to retire from the Black Hills region, that his troops may be available for use in the South. Some of the Republican leaders are in favor of a desperate effort to secure, by military interference, the votes of not only those two States, but also those of North Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi, if any pretext can be cooked up for sending troops there. And if one can not be found, it will be made. The old story of the wolf and the lamb will probably be used to excite the passions of the ignorant. In the mean time, the retreat of General Terry has been inglorious, and will encourage sitting still to wait a ruthless warfare on the thousands of citizens on the frontier thus suddenly abandoned by General Terry to the tender mercies of the red skins.

FOR GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK.
We are all glad, in Washington, that the Democrats of New York have at length got a candidate for Governor, Hon. Lucius Robinson, whom they would pit this Arkansas colored man in that State will unite. Mr. Robinson is a man of high personal character, and has proved himself, in the responsible position of Comptroller of the State, which he now holds, to be a man of good judgment and rare executive ability. The fact that he was Mr. Tilden's second choice for the position, gives assurance that he will strengthen the Presidential ticket.

MR. TILDEN'S WAR RECORD.
The Democracy of the North will be pleased to hear that Mr. Tilden's friends are preparing for general distribution, a pamphlet setting forth his brilliant Union record during the late civil war, specifying his manifold contributions to the Union cause, and containing, in extenso, his many fervent and inspiring speeches to Union soldiers. The pamphlet, in all that is now needed to elect our illustrious Reform candidate by a two-thirds majority. The Republicans are anxious to prevent the wide and, of having been a "copperhead" during the war. This is not so. Look in the forthcoming pamphlet at the points of view of every citizen, when called upon to give his contributions to the Union cause; and then see how ridiculous and wicked it is to call our patriotic Reform candidate a copperhead.

INDIANA AND OHIO.
Late advices from these two States are highly encouraging. Carl Schurz, who has been stamping for Hayes and Wheeler, says that a large majority of the Germans of Ohio will vote for Tilden and reform. Letters from Indiana assure us of a still more decisive victory in that State. Hendricks is very popular in Indiana, and is a tower of strength to the ticket. His friends are about to issue a pamphlet showing that his connection with the celebrated mule claim, while he was a member of the U. S. Senate, which has been falsely and wickedly pronounced discreditable to him by the Republican press, was perfectly legitimate. The charges of disloyalty during the late war, urged against him by Hayes and Wheeler, are in a campaign document containing extracts from his loyal and encouraging speeches to Union soldiers, with whom he is immensely popular also his speeches of the same tenor in the U. S. Senate, besides a complete list of his votes in support of the Union cause, Mr. Hendricks will bring to the ticket a large solid vote from outside of the Democratic party.

A TRUTHFUL CRITICISM.—The Christian at Work is the title of Dr. Witt Talmage's religious journal. The paper is generally recognized for its truthfulness. Here we want it to send the names forward to be mentioned in these columns. Here in Louisville a proper watch is set. All suspicious persons going to Indiana are being watched. At the same time the friends of the Union are being watched. The friends of the Union are being watched. The friends of the Union are being watched.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.—The Louisville Courier-Journal of Sept. 8th, says: "From various parts of Kentucky the friends of Hayes are sending in their names to be mentioned in these columns. Here in Louisville a proper watch is set. All suspicious persons going to Indiana are being watched. At the same time the friends of the Union are being watched. The friends of the Union are being watched."

LAND GRANTS TO CORPORATIONS.—From 1860 to 1871, Congress gave away to corporations, in land grants, two hundred and ninety-six millions of acres of land. Of this it gave away more land than is contained in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio and Indiana. On the average the corporation land grant was equalled each year the entire area of the Eastern States, and exceeded the combined areas of New York and Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio and Delaware, or Indiana and Maryland. There is now no question but that many of these land grants were absolutely useless, and considering their enormous extent, we are able to understand the vast temptation which drew so many leading public men into the vortex of disloyalty. We wish, for the credit not merely of the Republican party, but of the Nation, that there were fewer of these men now on the stump, and otherwise active for Hayes. Perhaps the Democrats might have been as bad had they been in power, but the fact remains that very few of them were involved, while a score from the minority is often as valuable to jobbers as one from the majority, and it is also true that while so many Republicans have an interest in maintaining the corrupt combinations, it is necessarily the interest of the Democrats to expose and destroy them. Undeniable facts are abundant before us, and it is the duty of a fair journalist to lay them candidly before the public, without fear or favor to one side or the other.

Speech of Andrew J. Chambers, of Arkansas.
[From the Albany Argus, Sept. 15th.]
Mr. Chambers is a slight built, well-dressed colored man, apparently about thirty years of age. He impresses the listener at once with the idea that he is honest and sincere, and that his course is prompted by correct impulses. When he advanced to speak the audience appeared at once to be in sympathy with him, and he had scarcely uttered his first sentence when it was evident that he had taken his hearers by storm. He said the South wanted a change. The intelligent, thinking negroes of the South wanted a change, and every working man wanted a change. What he said for his own race was that the Republican party had long enough made capital out of the colored race. In the South they began to understand it. The truth of the political situation was dawning upon them at last. The carpet-bagger and his government had to them a greater curse than the pests of Egypt. The colored man wanted no more of that. Their true friends in the South were the Southern white men, and not the Northern carpet-baggers who had followed the army as soldiers and not as men. There was no real antagonism between the Southern white man and the negro. All they wanted was to be let alone by the carpet-baggers and their instructors to the white and blacks of the South would work out their destiny together. The white race were God's people of fire, and the negro race were God's people of water. The white race were Christians and Christians to the world, and the intelligent black race were ready and anxious to link their destinies with them. They did not want antagonism. They wanted unity. They wanted unity. Since the Democrats had carried Arkansas not a negro had been murdered. What the Republican party had done in the South was to make capital at the North out of the murder of Southern negroes. But the whites of the South were not the South courted no such calamities. In States where the Democrats had gained control the South there was peace and the negroes were the race—there was no war. He wanted liberty for all. He did not want the coercion of Congress or the order of Tilden. What he was for was for "home rule"—local self-government. He knew of one society that was availed out of $1,700 by the failure of the Freedmen's Savings Bank. The Freedmen's Bureau was another swindle, and he was grateful to Johnson for retiring it. He was for Johnson. Whichever New York or the North might say, the South had seen enough of the Republican party, and they wanted a change and Samuel J. Tilden for President.

Lucius Robinson.
ALBANY, Sept. 15.—The Hon. Lucius Robinson Democratic candidate for Governor of New York, was accompanied to night by the Stateside. A display of rockets and fireworks preceded the music, and great enthusiasm was evinced. Mr. Robinson was introduced by Hon. Franklin Townsend, who in a few words referred to the long residence of Mr. Robinson in Albany while in the service of the State.
